GEN. CRONJE ESCAPED

Almost Impassable Drift Saved His Army.

DELAYED BRITISH FOR A DAY.

The Boer General Probably Will Lose All His Baggage - Burghers Left Their Big Guns at Magersfontein and Kimberley - Other News of the War.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—4:50 a. m.—It is now amply confirmed that General Cronje escaped. Every detail received, however, proves how admirably Lord Roberts' plans were conceived and were succeeding. But for the unexpected delay at Dekiel's drift, which was almost impassable for wagons, the whole Boer force would have been surrounded. The delay of one day there gave them their chance for a hasty retreat.

All the other movements of Lord Roberts were executed about a time. Apparently General Cronje is retreating with the main army, and even if he escapes altogether he will probably lose all his baggage.

The Daily News published the following dispatch, dated Feb. 18, from Modder river:

"Our sudden appearance seems to have astounded the enemy and thrown them into a panic. All their positions were hurriedly evacuated and the big guns at Magersfontein and Kimberley were left behind.

"General Cronje moved his transport, consisting of hundreds of wagons, along a bank of kopjes north of the Modder river, near Koffyfontein. It went past our mounted infantry, but owing to weariness had to stop. Thereupon our artillery opened upon it. The main body of the Boer force kept up a running fight the whole day, vainly trying to escape.

"Each time their advance guard sought to move off our mounted infantry galloped around and attempted to stop their main movement, contenting ourselves with trying to check them.

"Their position at Koffyfontein is said to be very strong. They entertain a wholesome dread of 10,000 cavalry moving more quickly than they do themselves. We hope to be in Bloemfontein shortly."

The Daily News had another dispatch from the Modder river military camp, dated Sunday morning, which says:

"At dawn, on Friday, the Boers were observed moving wagons along the kopjes toward Koffyfontein. Our mounted infantry was sent out from Klip drift, but was driven back, and the enemy's wagons passed.

"General Knox's Twelfth brigade, however, quickly attacked the enemy's main body and severe fighting went on all day over a line which was very extended. The enemy, making a desperate attempt, finally escaped, owing to the serpentine bend in the river. The mounted infantry suffered from the trying flanking movement. Our force has now been reinforced."

JACOBSDAL, Orange Free State, Feb. 19.—Further details of the Boer retreat show that the enemy has been fighting a good rear guard action and occupying successive kopjes in order to allow the moving of the convoy, which, however, has been going at a very slow pace, the animals apparently being dead beat.

The latest reports show that the Boers in the neighborhood of Klipkraa's drift are undoubtedly disheartened.

General French's magnificent march is still the subject of admiration, especially in view of the storms and thunderstorms that all experienced.

The work of shelling the Boers proceeds vigorously. Owing to the style of the action, the Boers are bound to show in the open whenever they are obliged to leave the kopjes.

BULLER TRYING THE RESCUE AGAIN

Another Movement on to Save Lady Smith - Trying to Take Hlangwane Hill.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A dispatch from Chieveley said:

CHIEVELEY, Feb. 18.—General Buller's casualties during three days' operations were about 80. The British forces have now partly ascended Monte Christo hill.

CHIEVELEY, Wednesday, Feb. 14.—(Delayed by censor.)—The movement northeastward began this (Wednesday) morning. Lord Dundonald, with cavalry, infantry and artillery, occupied Huzzar hill, five miles north of Chieveley. The infantry entrenched the hill.

The Boers were heavily entrenched on Hlangwane and Monte Christo hills.

A steady, independent fire, with occasional volleys, was maintained for some hours and the enemy's trenches were vigorously shelled.

The Boers had one gun in action during the early part of the day, but when we began shelling they moved it across the river. They used one Nordenfeldt in the afternoon.

Our casualties were few.

FRERE CAMP, Feb. 19.—The Boers abandoned several Laagers. General Buller renewed the bombardment of the Boer position without eliciting a reply. Another forward move is regarded as imminent.

LADYSMITH, Saturday, Feb. 17.—By heliograph via Weenen.—The Boers have been very active here during the last few days and are evidently making a move somewhere.

The garrison, greatly delighted to learn of the relief of Kimberley, is in excellent spirits and fit for anything.

CHIEVELEY, Sunday, Feb. 18.—The British operations are directed to the capture of Hlangwane hill, where the Boers are strongly fortified and from which they are shelling the British with great accuracy.

The British infantry are now disposed along a line extending for seven miles to the small kopjes at the base of Monte Christo hill.

From 6 o'clock Friday morning the British incessantly shelled Monte Christo, with the Nek separating it from Blaauw Krantz hill, on the right.

The British infantry is making slow progress up the Nek, in the endeavor to occupy Monte Christo, which will enable them to enfilade the Boers on Hlangwane.

CHIEVELEY, Sunday, Feb. 18.—General Buller has established his headquarters on Hussar hill. Heavy artillery firing was maintained at intervals by both sides from Wednesday until Friday. The British slowly pushed the advance, and their infantry occupied entrenched new positions in front of Hussar hill with slight losses.

It is believed the lyddite worked havoc in the Boer trenches.

The Boers are supposed to have moved their big guns back over the Tugela Friday afternoon. The rifle fire has been heavy at times. The whole country is thickly wooded.

FRENCH ON SCHEDULE TIME.

Reached Kimberley In Spite of Fearful Conditions - British Now Have a Mobile Force.

JACOBSDAL, Orange Free State, Feb. 19.—Lord Roberts' combinations for the movement of the corps dovetailed with precision, although obstacles that had not been foreseen had to be overcome.

The execution of his design began at 3 a. m. a week from last Sunday. General French rode into Kimberley Thursday afternoon, about when he was due, according to the field marshal's time table, having in four and a half days marched 90 miles with artillery and having fought two small engagements.

The relief of Kimberley was accomplished with the loss of only 50 men. Twenty thousand infantry made splendid marches under a sub-tropical sun and through a dust storm to hold the positions which General French took.

Lord Kitchener was with General Tucker's division. In consequence of his transport arrangements the four divisions moving over the sandy veldt are fed and watered. It is hardly possible to appreciate adequately the mathematical precision with which every part of the transport department has worked, marching through the day, toiling almost sleeplessly throughout the night, victualing the army and evolving every hour results from seeming chaos.

Everybody did what was expected of him cheerfully, though enduring frightful fatigues. Few slept more than three hours. The battalions, hour after hour, toiled through the heavy sand uncomplainingly, and when now and then a man fell out of the ranks exhausted he would rejoin his company later after he had rested. Some 50 or 60 were overcome by the heat and had to be sent to the rear in the backward defile of empty wagons.

The rapidity of Lord Roberts' movements away from his base has solved one of the problems, perhaps the chief problem, of the war. He and Lord Kitchener have created a mobile force, able to move in exterior lines, and to outflank the Boers, themselves so wonderfully mobile.

The position of the Boer army at Snyfontein being untenable, General Cronje ordered a retreat.

BOERS' GREAT KINDNESS.

A British Surgeon Praised Treatment of Wounded The Opponents Fraternized.

ARUNDEL, Feb. 19.—Captain Longhurst, of the British medical corps, spent a night at Hobkirk's farm, attending the wounded Australians. He says the enemy were remarkably kind to the wounded, providing them with mattresses and gave them all the eggs they had.

The Boer commander and Captain Longhurst found that they had mutual friends in London and were soon on the best terms. The Boers and the British wounded fraternized.

Noticing that the bandoliers of the enemy were filled with soft-nosed bullets, one of our men said: "You ought not to bring such things to fire at us."

The Boers replied: "We must use whatever we can get."

This particular boer contingent had come from the northern district of the Transvaal, where the Boers are used to hunting big game along the Limpopo. The men had obtained their ammunition for that purpose.

After the retirement of the British forces the Boers held a prayer meeting and thanked Heaven for their successes. Then they separated into small parties and moved to their various outposts, chanting hymns as they went.

PRESIDENT KRUGER NOT UNEASY.

He Sent a Telegram to a Former Holland Official.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A dispatch which President Kruger is said to have sent to The Hague since the successful movement of General French for the relief of Kimberley, reached a former official of Holland in this city. The message, which was apparently sent with a view to quieting the apprehensions of the friends of the Boers, reads:

"No uneasiness. Federal operations in the west fully planned."

The recipient of this dispatch, who conceals his identity, received and published a dispatch announcing the defeat of the British at Spion Kop 24 hours before the news of that event was made known through British sources.

BRITISH CAPTURED BOER STORES.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to the war office from Lord Roberts, dated Jacobsdal, Feb. 17, said: "General Kelly-Kenny's brigade captured yesterday 78 wagons loaded with stores, 2 wagons of Mauser rifles, 8 boxes of shells, 10 barrels of explosives and a large quantity of stores, all belonging to Cronje's laager, which was still being shelled by our artillery when Kitchener dispatched his messenger."

TWENTY BRAVE MEN KILLED.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to The Times from Maauppoort describing the retirement to Arundel, draws attention to the devotion of 20 men of the Victoria mounted rifles, who were caught in a trap and died to a man, fighting to the last.

CLARK IN HIS OWN DEFENSE.

Admitted He Spent About $115,000 During His Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Clark, of Montana, was on the witness stand before the senate committee on elections for about four hours Saturday, and when the committee adjourned for the day only his examination in chief had been completed, leaving his cross-examination for today.

He denied explicitly and categorically all the charges of the use of money for himself or with his connivance or consent to corrupt members of the legislature in his behalf, contradicting many of the statements made by witnesses for the prosecution. He admitted having paid an aggregate of about $115,000 during the campaign, but said this expenditure was for legitimate purposes only.

The large outlay was due to the fact, he said, that he had contracted to pay all the expenses of a campaign against Mr. Daly's rule in the state, and he had gone into the compact to that end because he considered Mr. Daly's rule tyrannical and opposed to the best interests of the state.

LAWMAKERS UNITED

The Kentucky Factions Met Together Today.

DIFFER OVER PRESIDING OFFICER.

Both Carter and Marshall Claim They Should Preside Over the Senate—Opposition to Opening Up the Gubernatorial Controversy.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 19.—The Democratic and Republican branches of the legislature met today together for the first time since the assassination of Goebel.

Both Lieutenant Governor Marshall (Rep.) and President Pro Tem. Carter (Dem.) claimed they would preside in the senate. The question was as wide open last night as ever. The Democratic leaders say Senator Carter will preside. Lieutenant Governor Marshall was not here last night, but before leaving the city Saturday night he stated positively that he would return today and insist upon his right to preside. The Republican leaders asserted positively last night that he will preside.

Governor Taylor went to church Sunday, without a military escort, and spent the remainder of the day at the Mansion with his family.

Governor Beckham returned to the city last night, with the Democratic legislators, and will have his headquarters at the Capitol hotel. Messrs. Justus and Arthur Goebel, brothers of the late Democratic governor, also returned, and will remain here till the body of their dead brother is finally buried. The body still lies in the little chapel in the cemetery, the relatives having been slow to determine the exact spot of burial.

The question of reopening the contest over the governorship by presenting resolutions in both houses ratifying the action taken by the Democratic legislators on two occasions declaring Goebel governor, was favorably discussed by some of the Democratic members. They say this would not be a concession that the former proceedings were illegal, but would probably put an end to the controversy sooner.

The matter has not been decided officially, but a majority of the members who are outspoken on the matter expressed themselves as opposed to reopening the matter in any form. They will abide by the decision of the party managers, however.

BRONSTON PULLED A GUN.

State Senator Almost Shot Senate Clerk In Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 19.—A political argument between ex-State Senator Charles J. Bronston, of Lexington, and Claude Desha, chief clerk of the senate, came near precipitating a shooting affray on a Chesapeake and Ohio train, crowded with returning Democratic legislators. Bronston is said to have denounced the Goebel men as revolutionists.

Desha, to whom the remarks were addressed, denounced Bronston a bolter. Angry words passed and Senator Bronston drew a pistol. Several legislators stood between them and prevented trouble. Desha's friends say he was not armed. Later, both men agreed to drop the matter.

MILWAUKEE CITIZENS HUSTLING.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 19.—A delegation of about 100 boomers, including prominent politicians from Racine, Waukesha, Fond du Lac and other Wisconsin cities, left Milwaukee for Washington on a special train over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road. The train was transferred to the Pennsylvania system at Chicago. The delegation will work hard to secure the Democratic national convention for Milwaukee.

Chairman Joseph G. Donnelly, of the Milwaukee executive committee, carries with him a large quantity of documentary evidence, setting forth the various facilities claimed for Milwaukee in the handling of big gatherings.

Mayor David S. Rose and ex-Governor George W. Peck are already at the national capital putting forth every possible effort to get the convention. Kansas City is looked upon here as Milwaukee's only opponent.

Samuel R. This cannot be done, as no grade lines have been established by Engineer George. Mr. Dixon, in speaking of the matter said: "I have been waiting a long time on this work, and why the engineer has not established a grade is more than I can understand. If I am right, council ordered the grade established when the park question was settled. I do not intend to withdraw my offer to the city to construct a boulevard, but it is strange that the grade has not been set before this."

HIS OX WAS GORED

While Only Badly Scared, He Was All Shaken Up and Terrified.

The writer was engaged in conversation with one of our most prominent and popular citizens, when the latter advocated the saloon on account of business interests, stating that history had demonstrated that towns and cities forbidding saloons within their limits, did not prosper and thrive like those where saloons were permitted. The writer tackled this lying chestnut of the saloon devil and proved it to be an absolute falsehood, and a base slander against the commercial traveler of the nation, men who are demonstrating, in these later years, that intoxicants are a curse from every standpoint, a sentiment earnestly backed up and sustained by their employers.

A few days after this conversation with our East Liverpool merchant the rumor was prevalent that a saloon was to be established near the merchant's home. And oh! how that merchant was wrought up and worried. He is a hustler from away back and a man of influence, and he worked with a will against the saloonist and his project, asserting that the establishment of a gin mill so near to his home residence would ruin its commercial value and compel him to remove from that portion of the city. He won his point and is now content. He was satisfied that the accused saloon should ruin and annoy some one else, but not himself. It makes all the difference whose ox is gored.

Influenza Caused by Ozone.

On one occasion the writer walked to the edge of Lake Michigan when a strong wind was blowing right from the lake. The bodily condition was as near perfect as could be, and yet in less than five minutes there was every evidence of having caught cold.

The severe influenza continued until, on walking away, in less than 500 feet it disappeared as if by magic.

It is very certain that the temperature had nothing to do with this nor the wind, but the influenza was directly due to the abundant ozone in the air. By inquiry it was learned that hundreds of residents who had lived upon the immediate edge of the lake had been obliged to move back three or four miles in order to relieve themselves from such experiences.

Physicians readily admit that it is not always possible to say when one "catches" cold. It certainly cannot always be because of undue exposure or change in temperature, but probably also to changes in the electric conduction of the air. Facts of this kind should lead to the extreme caution in studying any supposed relation between the weather and health.—Popular Science.

Spreading Happiness.

NEW BANK BUILDING

Potters' National Will Erect a Three Story

BRICK AND STONE BUILDING

No Expense Will be Spared to Make the Building One of the Finest in the City and the Bank Proper Will be the Finest in This Section of the State.

The new Potters' National bank building to be erected at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets, when completed, will be one of the handsomest buildings in the city, and will add greatly to the appearance of the business portion of the city.

The lot purchased by the bank fronts 80 feet on Washington street and 70 feet on Fifth street. It is the intention to cover the entire space with a magnificent building of brick and stone, three stories high. The entire first floor will be used for the bank; the second story will be cut up into first-class office rooms and the third story will be used for a lodge room.

Architects are now working on plans and they will be submitted March 20, and it is the intention, if possible, to have the building ready for occupancy by September 1.

It is expected the first story of the building will be built entirely of stone, and the main entrance will be located at the corner. The bank proper will be a marvel of beauty when completed. The fixtures will be the best that can be purchased, and no expense will be spared to make it an ideal bank building the finest in this section of the state. A burglar proof vault and safety deposit boxes will be put in. The banking room will be large and well lighted and the entire building will be lighted by electricity and will be a modern up-to-date building in every respect, and one that the city will be proud of.

ARGUED AT COLUMBUS.

Congressman Tayler, Counsel in Martin-Kepner Treasurer Suit.

A Columbus dispatch says: Congressman R. W. Tayler is here as attorney in the case of Jesse Kepner vs. John R. Martin, of Columbiana county, which is being argued to the supreme court. Martin was elected to succeed Kepner as treasurer of the county. When he assumed the office Kepner turned over $31,832.72, and Martin accepted it, supposing it was all there was in his possession. Subsequently he claimed that Kepner had held back public funds aggregating $7,601.23, and he sued for the amount and interest. He got a verdict for a total amount of $10,924.76.

While in Columbus Mr. Tayler inquired into the political situation in the Eighteenth district, especially regarding the origin and scope of the alleged opposition that had developed to his candidacy for renomination. He was assured by the district politicians at Columbus that he had no cause for anxiety on that score.

MACRUM IS READY.

Gone to Washington--Said He Was Willing to Prove the Statement He Made.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 19.—Charles E. Macrum, late United States consul at Pretoria, was in the city a short time last evening enroute from his home in East Liverpool, O., to Washington. He said he had not been called to the capital by the state department and was going there on no special errand. He simply wanted to be in Washington in case anything happened in which he might be interested.

Macrum does not seem a bit worried about the outcome of the statement. And he said so, too, but added that he hoped that nothing of a serious character in the way of international complications with Great Britain would result. In answer to questions the ex-consul said:

"I have not one word to take back in the statement published over my signature a few days ago. I fully appreciated the seriousness of such a statement and that is why I refused to be interviewed or discuss the matter offhand. I took plenty of time to write it and read it over more than once to make sure that I made no blunders. Now I am ready and willing to prove every word it contained."

lyddite, the detonation of the fuse and of the two explosives inside the shell being instantaneous. The picric powder exploder, we should add, is inserted in a recess left in the lyddite for that purpose. Lyddite shell is to some extent less barbarous than shrapnel exploded by powder, for though widespread, its death dealing effects are due more to air concussion than to the wounding effects of the flying fragments. In other words, in the case of a lyddite shell bursting in a group of men, the greater number will be killed not by pieces of the shell, but by the blow of the suddenly compressed air.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O. MONDAY, FEB 19.

FOR PRESIDENT--SECOND TERM.
WM. M'KINLEY, OF Ohio.

Read center column, first page

SCARCELY five days now until the polls open for the primaries. What are you going to do about it?

MAKE the ticket a good one from top to bottom. Don't let it be top heavy, lob-sided or figure-headed.

THERE are plenty of good men in the Republican party. Pick out enough to fill out a first class ticket Saturday.

If the ticket nominated isn't a good one, it will be the fault of those who neglected to work and vote for good men

A MAN shouldn't be elected to office simply because he wants to get there.
The only sufficient reason for his election is that the people want him to get there.

YOU may not be running for office yourself, but the men nominated Saturday will have a good deal to say about how much money will come out of your pocket to run the city.

SMOOTH SAILING.

The positive announcement from Judge P. M. Smith that he will not be a candidate for congress this year will no doubt ensure Hon. R. W. Taylor an unopposed renomination from Columbian county's delegation.

DON'T BE A COWARD?

Many men and women--women despise a coward? If your grocer, your dry goods merchant, your hardware merchant, your shoe merchant, your furniture dealer, or any other man, or body of men, threaten to do you harm, bodily or otherwise, in case you do not vote to suit them, or vote as they dictate, laugh them to scorn. Don't be a coward? If the liquor dealer, wholesale or retail, dares to interfere with your ballot, laugh him to scorn and give him open defiance, and the God of truth will see that you have the victory. Don't be a coward. "Right is might and shall prevail."

GOD AND HUMANITY.

God loved humanity in the days when Christ, in human form, dwelt upon this earth. God loves humanity with the same all powerful and divine love today.
He is the friend of the poor and the needy. He gives unto them good gifts, in time and in eternity. He stands ready to help you today. He is the lover of everything pure and right and true. He hates evil and evil communications. He hates the infamous liquor traffic and that abomination of abominations, the saloon, hell's choicest weapon for the gathering in of human souls.
Remember this on Saturday next, and cast your ballot for the cleanest man and best man on the ticket.

WAREHOUSE GIRLS

At the Brunt Pottery Walked Out--Mr. Louthan Says
There Is No Strike.

The biscuit warehouse girls at Brunt's pottery went out on a strike this morning. The trouble only concerns five girls and last Saturday night they claim they were given their two weeks' notice, but when they arrived at the pottery this morning they found a new girl installed in the place of one of their number who had been employed as a sponger.
They didn't like this and protested and as a result the strike occurred. A meeting of the union will be held this afternoon to discuss the matter.

Mr. Louthan, of the pottery company, stated this afternoon that there was no strike at the plant but that a girl or two might have quit.

TWO ACCIDENTS.

Lester McBane Had His Foot and Finger Mashed In the Same Day.

Lester McBane, assistant pressman at the NEWS REVIEW office, had a brace of accidents today that will lay him up for a short time. While working around the newspaper press this morning he had his foot mashed, and this afternoon when he started the gas engine one of his fingers was caught and severely mashed. This was too much for Lester and he fainted, but soon recovered and was able to walk to his home.

GONE EAST.

Hon Charles E. Macrum Left Yesterday For an Extended Trip.

Hon Charles E. Macrum left yesternoon for the east. Before he left he stated that he did not intend to go straight to Washington, but would spend several days in the east on private business before he went to the capital.
He stated that he had not been called to Washington and was making the trip purely from personal reasons.

School Board Meeting.

The Board of Education will meet in the directors' room at the Central building this evening at 7:30 o'clock. This will be the first meeting in four weeks as only three members appeared. There is no special business to be transacted.

cording to Record of Those on the Roll of Honor.

Superintendent of Public Instruction
R. E. Rayman this morning completed

Danger of Being Too Obliging.

The other evening, while attending a lecture, Howard Tompkins observed, sitting three seats in front, a man whom he recognized as an intimate acquaintance.
Tompkins requested the person who occupied the seat next to him to lean forward and poke the other individual with his stick. The polite stranger at once obligingly did so.

When the disturbed person turned his head a little to find out the cause of the poke, Tompkins discovered his mistake—that he was not the person he had taken him for.

Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer and affecting complete unconsciousness of the whole affair, Tompkins left the obliging man with the stick to settle with the other for disturbance. There was, as may be readily imagined, a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during the whole of which Tompkins evidenced the profoundest possible interest in the lecture.

At last the man with the stick asked in aggrieved and indignant tones:

"Didn't you tell me, sir, to poke that man with my stick?"

"I certainly did," replied the unabashed Tompkins.

"I wanted to see if you would poke him or not," was the audacious answer.—Pearson's Weekly.

Questions and Answers.

A school inspector well known for his weight was trying to extract the word "flesh" from a class. His efforts had failed, but, taking hold of his fat cheek between his thumb and forefinger, he pulled it out and asked:

"What's this?"

The unhesitating answer came promptly, "Pork, sir."

The same inspector was once giving an object lesson on an umbrella. To illustrate his subject he took his own silk umbrella, which happened to have a small hole in it.

"What is this, boys?"

"An umbrella, sir."

"And what is this?"

"The stick, sir."

"And these?"

"The ribs, sir."

"With what is it covered?"

Silence.

"Surely you know. What kind of an umbrella would you call it?"

"An old 'un, sir."—Good Words.

SMITH NOT A CANDIDATE

The Judge Announces His Decision This Morning.

BUSINESS INTERESTS PREVENT

him From Running for Congress This Year, But There Are Signs That He Will Find Time to Make the Race at Some Future Time—Thanks for Support.

LISBON, Feb. 19.—[Special]—Judge P. M. Smith states that he has positively decided not to be a candidate for congress this year. He gives as his reasons business engagements made prior to any thought of entering the field. He feels very grateful to his many friends for their kindly sentiments and their interest in his behalf, but the state of his health and his business interests absolutely prohibit his entering the contest at present. The support tendered him from his home county and the expressions of approval which greeted his candidacy in Stark and Mahoning have been most gratifying. His many friends will learn of his decision with regret, and hope that at some future date he may be prevailed upon to become a candidate for congressional honors.

TRADE WITH THE ISLES

House to Consider Tariff Feature This Week.

PORTO RICAN BILL COMES UP.

Likely to Affect Our Policy as to Other Possessions—Form of Government of Hawaii Will Be Considered in the Senate—May Discuss Other Islands.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The attention of the senate this week will be given largely to the relations of the United States to its insular possessions. The bill providing a form of government for the Hawaiian islands has right of way, and if it should be so fortunate as to be finally acted upon before the close of the week, the Porto Rican bill, under the agreement made in the Republican caucus last week, will be immediately taken up. The probabilities are that the Hawaiian bill will be debated at considerable length and that many amendments will be offered to it. On this account, and because it may be made the basis of more or less general talk on the question of the policy to be pursued toward the new possessions, considerable time probably will be necessary to the final disposal of the bill.

All admit the urgency of legislation giving the Hawaiians a government, but there are some points on which there are radical differences of opinion, and these will have to be fought out. The most important of these is the question as to whether the commercial intercourse between the United States and the islands shall be under a tariff or under the free trade system allowed between the states of the Union. The bill provides for free trade, but several of the senators, under the leadership of Senator Platt, of Connecticut, are making an effort to secure radical amendment in this respect.

Senator Cullom, in charge of the bill, will resist, and he will be supported by some Republicans and nearly all of the Democratic members. Practically the same fight will be made on the Porto Rican bill.

The Porto Rican tariff bill and debate upon it are to occur in the house this week. The vital question at issue in the bill is whether that clause of the constitution providing for equality of impost and excise taxes throughout the United States territory extends over the island of Porto Rico and in this is involved, perhaps, the determination of the future status and government of our new possessions. The Republicans, in framing the bill have proceeded upon the theory that the constitution and its immunities do not extend over Porto Rico. The Democrats are solidly arrayed upon the other side and in committee they were joined by one Republican—Mr. McCall of Massachusetts.

Among the other Republicans to take the same view is Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, who succeeded the late Mr. Dingley. He won his spurs in the debate upon the Roberts case and is already considered one of the most powerful debaters in the house. The support of these two prominent Republicans has raised some hopes in the opposition that they may be able to defeat the bill, although this hardly seemed probable at this writing. Both sides are preparing for a royal struggle. Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, will open in support of the bill. He will be followed by Mr. Richardson, the minority leader. Mr. Bailey, of Texas, will close for the minority. The debate will continue throughout the week and the vote will be taken on the following Monday.

LAST HONORS TO CLINE.

Soldier Lad of the Tenth Buried at Washington, Pa.—Killed in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 19.—Jacob O. Cline, the first soldier of Company H, Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, to fall on the field of battle in the far away islands of the Philippines, was buried here with full military honors.

The funeral services were held in the Christian church, of which Cline was a member. They were in charge of Chaplain Henry W. Temple, of the late Seventeenth regiment, N. G. P., and Rev. W. H. Hanna, pastor of the church. The services were opened with an anthem, "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping," after which invocation was offered by Rev. Mr. Temple and the Scripture read by Rev. Mr. Hanna. The eulogies over the dead warrior were by Chaplain Temple and Rev. Mr. Hanna.

The services were concluded with an anthem, the "Lord's Prayer," and benediction by Chaplain Temple.

McCaffery, John E. Murray and Albert D. Wilson, intimate friends of the dead soldier; also by honorary pallbearers from the lodge of Odd Fellows.

On arriving at the cemetery the soldiers of the company formed about the grave, and when the body was lowered short services were conducted by the Odd Fellows. A volley was fired and taps were sounded by Bugler Smith, of Company E, Mount Pleasant.

THE L. & N. IN POLITICS.

Belmont Makes Public Correspondence With Watterson, Previous to the Election.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 19.—Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, has given out correspondence, mention of which was made in the editorial of Henry Watterson, regarding the Kentucky elections.

It is a letter written to Smith by August Belmont, one of the chief men of the company.

Watterson wrote him a letter warning him that the management of the road was interfering in politics, in trying to beat Goebel, and that it was bound to cause legislative action against the road, which would injure it, as Goebel was sure to be elected, as the Goebel law made the election such that it would not be "left to chance." He also warned Belmont of the mismanagement of Louisville Post and Louisville Dispatch, which, he said, were controlled by the railroad, which were foolishly abusing The Courier-Journal and in reality injuring the road. He also complained of one Whallen.

Belmont laid the matter before the directors of the road. They passed resolutions, copies of which were sent to Watterson, saying no official of the road was allowed to run for office, neither had the road any connection with the papers complained of or with Whallen.

The road as a corporation had as much right as an individual to fight in politics men like Goebel or other legislator, who had tried and were threatening to injure the road, which, while deriving so much benefit from the state, had also in turn been a benefit to the state and the people.

SALISBURY'S HIGH IDEAL.

Believed to Be Sacrificing Politics, to What He Believes to Be Statesmanship.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—There is a growing impression that Lord Salisbury is sacrificing politics to what he rightly or wrongly believes to be the statesmanship of the last quarter of a century. His strength, patriotism and diplomacy have often been severely tested and not found wanting, hence the idea that his continued refusal to take the nation into his confidence at this crisis is prompted by motives of the highest importance.

The conduct of the foreign office, where there is not the slightest inclination to underestimate the difficulties or overestimate the national capabilities, certainly bears out this solution of the enigma that puzzles the Conservatives as much as it provides capital for the Liberals.

A reasonable supposition was suggested by a well-known peer, who said: "It is more than likely that Lord Salisbury, though seeing no immediate likelihood of foreign complications, wishes to prepare for the contingency and be able to meet it with a free hand, unfettered by any recent utterance confessing weakness or exposing strength."

In support of this, it is interesting to observe that at the moment Lord Rosebery was demanding naval mobilization, the admiralty was engaged in instituting the preliminaries for that very move, by ascertaining at all the naval ports the number of ships that could be immediately commissioned and issuing orders for three battleships and three cruisers, all of the reserve, to coal at once, in order to be ready for commissioning in case they were required.

NEW BASEBALL ASSOCIATION.

Decision to Keep It Up, But Hold Off For a Year.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 19.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the new association baseball club the future of the club was discussed and it was unanimously agreed that the organization should be kept up.

The action of Messrs. Peterson and McGraw in refusing to go on with the association under the present auspices was ratified, but it was thought by the end of the year matters would be in a different position and the association could be formed and carried out to a successful conclusion, in which case Baltimore would be ready to go in.

Before the Sabine sailed from New York it was rumored that she had on board a large quantity of provisions, arms and ammunition, army blankets and general supplies, but no confirmation of the rumor could be obtained. The vessel was cleared for Delagoa bay.

One of Lamb's Pranks.

A pretentious poet got his verses submitted to Charles Lamb by a friend just before the poet was to meet Lamb at dinner. Lamb found the verses to be feeble echoes of other poets, and when the author arrived he was seen to be as empty as his verses. This awakened Lamb's spirit of mischievous waggery. At dinner he said in the course of conversation:

"That reminds me of some verses I wrote when I was young," and then he quoted a line or two which he recollects from the poet's book, to the latter's amazement and indignation. Lamb was diverted immensely, but kept perfectly serious and quoted more lines in connection with another remark, begging the company to remember how young he was when he composed them. The author again looked daggers at him.

Lamb capped all by introducing the first lines of "Paradise Lost" ("Of man's first disobedience," etc.) as also written by himself, which brought the poet to his feet, bursting with rage. He said he had sat by and allowed his own "little verses" to be appropriated without protest, but when he saw Milton also being pilfered from he could sit silent no longer. Lamb reveled in telling this story.—Rev. David Macrae in "English Humor."

ENGINEERS' GRIEVANCE.

Penny Employees Want More Money For Running Big Engines—Conference at Altoona.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 19.—Two hundred delegates, representing the engineers employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company on its entire system, met here and held a secret conference to adjust grievances over wages. Two sessions were held. Both were attended by Grand Chief P. M. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The grievances consist principally over the big engines recently introduced on the Pennsylvania road. Engineers claim they require more work and that the men who run them should have more pay.

The delegates were close-mouthed about the convention and would give nothing out for publication. The action of the convention will be submitted to local lodges for ratification.

Grand Chief Arthur will leave for the west today.

FLED TO AMERICA.

Sensational Story About a Frenchman Offering Transvaal Information to Great Britain.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The sensational newspapers of Paris publish a story with regard to a sub-chief of one of the bureaus of the ministry of marine named Philipp, who is said to have been discovered in an offer to furnish Great Britain information relating to the freighting of vessels for the Transvaal in French ports. It is alleged that in the letter containing his proposal he asked 25,000 francs in return for the information. It is also alleged that the letter was seized on the strength of information given through Dr. Leyds, whereupon M. Philipp absconded.

The Nationalist journals insinuate that he received timely warning from the French government and was thus enabled to escape to England.

Dr. Leyds, however, denies the part attributed to him in the affair and the British embassy has issued a formal repudiation of any relations, direct or indirect, with Philipp.

According to the Journal des Debats, Philipp has gone to the United States, where he formerly lived and where, it is said, he became a bankrupt as the result of his unfortunate management of his business as a picture dealer.

THE SCHOOL APPROPRIATION.

State Treasurer Beacon Completed It's Distribution in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 19.—State Treasurer Beacon completed the distribution of school appropriation for the current fiscal year ending May 31 next. This is the first time the school districts have been paid before March 1 since the appropriation was increased to $5,500,000. The statistical officers estimate the state revenues for 1900 at $12,121,448.50, or about $6,000,000 less than the receipts for 1899. Mr. Beacon says if business conditions continue as good for five years as they have for the present 18 months the state will be able, under the present revenue law, to meet its obligations, but that even the present conditions will not justify any increase of appropriations.

He believes it would be a mistake to change the present system of state taxation in Pennsylvania. The large increase in the state revenues the past year over the previous 12 months have enabled the state treasurer to settle promptly all the claims against the commonwealth.

GEN. CRONJE ESCAPED

Almost Impassable Drift Saved His Army.

DELAYED BRITISH FOR A DAY.

The Boer General Probably Will Lose All His Baggage - Burghers Left Their Big Guns at Magersfontein and Kimberley - Other News of the War.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—4:50 a. m.—It is now amply confirmed that General Cronje escaped. Every detail received, however, proves how admirably Lord Roberts' plans were conceived and were succeeding. But for the unexpected delay at Dekiel's drift, which was almost impossible for wagons, the whole Boer force would have been surrounded. The delay of one day there gave them their chance for a hasty retreat.

All the other movements of Lord Roberts were executed about the time. Apparently General Cronje is retreating with the main army, and even if he escapes altogether he will probably lose all his baggage.

The Daily News published the following dispatch, dated Feb. 18, from Modder river:

"Our sudden appearance seems to have astounded the enemy and thrown them into a panic. All their positions were hurriedly evacuated and the big guns at Magersfontein and Kimberley were left behind.

"General Cronje moved his transport, consisting of hundreds of wagons, along a bank of kopjes north of the Modder river, near Koffyfontein. It went past our mounted infantry, but owing to weariness had to stop. Thereupon our artillery opened upon it. The main body of the Boer force kept up a running fight the whole day, vainly trying to escape.

"Each time their advance guard sought to move off our mounted infantry galloped around and attempted to stop their main movement, contenting ourselves with trying to check them.

"Their position at Koffyfontein is said to be very strong. They entertain a wholesome dread of 10,000 cavalry moving more quickly than they do themselves. We hope to be in Bloemfontein shortly."

The Daily News had another dispatch from the Modder river military camp, dated Sunday morning, which says:

"At dawn, on Friday, the Boers were observed moving wagons along the kopjes toward Koffyfontein. Our mounted infantry was sent out from Klip drift, but was driven back, and the enemy's wagons passed.

FRENCH ON SCHEDULE TIME.

Reached Kimberley In Spite of Fearful Conditions - British Now Have a Mobile Force.

JACOBSDAL, Orange Free State, Feb. 19.—Lord Roberts' combinations for the movement of the corps dovetailed with precision, although obstacles that had not been foreseen had to be overcome.

The execution of his design began at 3 a. m. a week from last Sunday. General French rode into Kimberley Thursday afternoon, about when he was due, according to the field marshal's time table, having in four and a half days marched 90 miles with artillery and having fought two small engagements.

The relief of Kimberley was accomplished with the loss of only 50 men. Twenty thousand infantry made splendid marches under a sub-tropical sun and through a dust storm to hold the positions which General French took.

Lord Kitchener was with General Tucker's division. In consequence of his transport arrangements the four divisions moving over the sandy veldt are fed and watered. It is hardly possible to appreciate adequately the mathematical precision with which every part of the transport department has worked, marching through the day, toiling almost sleeplessly throughout the night, victualing the army and evolving every hour results from seeming chaos.

Everybody did what was expected of him cheerfully, though enduring frightful fatigues. Few slept more than three hours. The battalions, hour after hour, toiled through the heavy sand uncomplainingly, and when now and then a man fell out of the ranks exhausted he would rejoin his company later after he had rested. Some 50 or 60 were overcome by the heat and had to be sent to the rear in the backward defile of empty wagons.

The rapidity of Lord Roberts' movements away from his base has solved one of the problems, perhaps the chief problem, of the war. He and Lord Kitchener have created a mobile force, able to move in exterior lines, and to outflank the Boers, themselves so wonderfully mobile.

The position of the Boer army at Snytfontein being untenable, General Cronje ordered a retreat.

The Boers were heavily entrenched on Hlangwane and Monte Christo hills.

A steady, independent fire, with occasional volleys, was maintained for some hours and the enemy's trenches were vigorously shelled.

The Boers had one gun in action during the early part of the day, but when we began shelling they moved it across the river. They used one Nordenfeldt in the afternoon.

Our casualties were few.

FRERE CAMP, Feb. 19.—The Boers abandoned several Laagers. General Buller renewed the bombardment of the Boer position without eliciting a reply. Another forward move is regarded as imminent.

LADYSMITH, Saturday, Feb. 17.—By heliograph via Weenen.—The Boers have been very active here during the last few days and are evidently making a move somewhere.

The garrison, greatly delighted to learn of the relief of Kimberley, is in excellent spirits and fit for anything.

CHIEVELEY, Sunday, Feb. 18.—The British operations are directed to the capture of Hlangwane hill, where the Boers are strongly fortified and from which they are shelling the British with great accuracy.

The British infantry are now disposed along a line extending for seven miles to the small kopjes at the base of Monte Christo hills.

From 6 o'clock Friday morning the British incessantly shelled Monte Christo, with the Nek separating it from Blaauw Krantz hill, on the right.

The British infantry is making slow progress up the Nek, in the endeavor to occupy Monte Christo, which will enable them to enfilade the Boers on Hlangwane.

CHIEVELEY, Sunday, Feb. 18.—General Buller has established his headquarters on Hussar hill. Heavy artillery firing was maintained at intervals by both sides from Wednesday until Friday. The British slowly pushed the advance, and their infantry occupied entrenched new positions in front of Hussar hill with slight losses.

It is believed the lyddite worked havoc in the Boer trenches.

The Boers are supposed to have moved their big guns back over the Tugela Friday afternoon. The rifle fire has been heavy at times. The whole country is thickly wooded.

BOERS' GREAT KINDNESS.

A British Surgeon Praised Treatment of Wounded The Opponents Fraternized.

ARUNDEL, Feb. 19.—Captain Longhurst, of the British medical corps, spent a night at Hobkirk's farm, attending the wounded Australians. He says the enemy were remarkably kind to the wounded, providing them with mattresses and gave them all the eggs they had.

The Boer commander and Captain Longhurst found that they had mutual friends in London and were soon on the best terms. The Boers and the British wounded fraternized.

Noticing that the bandoliers of the enemy were filled with soft-nosed bullets, one of our men said: "You ought not to bring such things to fire at us."

The Boers replied: "We must use whatever we can get."

This particular Boer contingent had come from the northern district of the Transvaal, where the Boers are used to hunting big game along the Limpopo. The men had obtained their ammunition for that purpose.

After the retirement of the British forces the Boers held a prayer meeting and thanked Heaven for their successes. Then they separated into small parties and moved to their various outposts, chanting hymns as they went.

PRESIDENT KRUGER NOT UNEASY.

He Sent a Telegram to a Former Holland Official.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—A dispatch which President Kruger is said to have sent to The Hague since the successful movement of General French for the relief of Kimberley, reached a former official of Holland in this city. The message, which was apparently sent with a view to quieting the apprehensions of the friends of the Boers, reads:

"No uneasiness. Federal operations in the west fully planned."

The recipient of this dispatch, who conceals his identity, received and published a dispatch announcing the defeat of the British at Spion Kop 24 hours before the news of that event was made known through British sources.

BRITISH CAPTURED BOER STORES.

London, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to the war office from Lord Roberts, dated Jacobsdal, Feb. 17, said: "General Kelly-Kenny's brigade captured yesterday 78 wagons loaded with stores, 2 wagons of Mauser rifles, 8 boxes of shells, 10 barrels of explosives and a large quantity of stores, all belonging to Cronje's laager, which was still being shelled by our artillery when Kitchener dispatched his messenger."

TWENTY BRAVE MEN KILLED.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A dispatch to The Times from Maastricht describing the retirement to Arundel, draws attention to the devotion of 20 men of the Victoria mounted rifles, who were caught in a trap and died to a man, fighting to the last.

CLARK IN HIS OWN DEFENSE.

Admitted He Spent About $115,000 During His Campaign.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—Senator Clark of Montana, was on the witness stand before the senate committee on elections for about four hours Saturday, and when the committee adjourned for the day only his examination in chief had been completed, leaving his cross-examination for today.

He denied explicitly and categorically all the charges of the use of money for himself or with his connivance or consent to corrupt members of the legislature in his behalf, contradicting many of the statements made by witnesses for the prosecution. He admitted having paid an aggregate of about $115,000 during the campaign, but said this expenditure was for legitimate purposes only.

The large outlay was due to the fact, he said, that he had contracted to pay all the expenses of a campaign against Mr. Daly's rule in the state, and he had gone into the compact to that end because he considered Mr. Daly's rule tyrannical and opposed to the best interests of the state.

LAWMAKERS UNITED

The Kentucky Factions Met Together Today.

DIFFER OVER PRESIDING OFFICER.

Both Carter and Marshall Claim They Should Preside Over the Senate—Opposition to Opening Up the Gubernatorial Controversy.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 19.—The Democratic and Republican branches of the legislature met today together for the first time since the assassination of Goebel.

Both Lieutenant Governor Marshall (Rep.) and President Pro Tem. Carter (Dem.) claimed they would preside in the senate. The question was as wide open last night as ever. The Democratic leaders say Senator Carter will preside. Lieutenant Governor Marshall was not here last night, but before leaving the city Saturday night he stated positively that he would return today and insist upon his right to preside. The Republican leaders asserted positively last night that he will preside.

Governor Taylor went to church Sunday, without a military escort, and spent the remainder of the day at the Mansion with his family.

Governor Beckham returned to the city last night, with the Democratic legislators, and will have his headquarters at the Capitol hotel. Messrs. Justus and Arthur Goebel, brothers of the late Democratic governor, also returned, and will remain here till the body of their dead brother is finally buried.

The body still lies in the little chapel in the cemetery, the relatives having been slow to determine the exact spot of burial.

The question of reopening the contest over the governorship by presenting resolutions in both houses ratifying the action taken by the Democratic legislators on two occasions declaring Goebel governor, was favorably discussed by some of the Democratic members. They say this would not be a concession that the former proceedings were illegal, but would probably put an end to the controversy sooner.

The matter has not been decided officially, but a majority of the members who are outspoken on the matter expressed themselves as opposed to reopening the matter in any form. They will abide by the decision of the party managers, however.

BRONSTON PULLED A GUN.

State Senator Almost Shot Senate Clerk In Kentucky.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 19.—A political argument between ex-State Senator Charles J. Bronston, of Lexington, and Claude Desha, chief clerk of the senate, came near precipitating a shooting affray on a Chesapeake and Ohio train, crowded with returning Democratic legislators. Bronston is said to have denounced the Goebel men as revolutionists.

Desha, to whom the remarks were addressed, denounced Bronston a boaster. Angry words passed and Senator Bronston drew a pistol. Several legislators stood between them and prevented trouble. Desha's friends say he was not armed. Later, both men agreed to drop the matter.

MILWAUKEE CITIZENS HUSTLING.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 19.—A delegation of about 100 boomers, including prominent politicians from Racine, Waukesha, Fond du Lac and other Wisconsin cities, left Milwaukee for Washington on a special train over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road. The train was transferred to the Pennsylvania system at Chicago. The delegation will work hard to secure the Democratic national convention for Milwaukee.

Chairman Joseph G. Donnelly, of the Milwaukee executive committee, carries with him a large quantity of documentary evidence, setting forth the various facilities claimed for Milwaukee in the handling of big gatherings.

Mayor David S. Rose and ex-Governor George W. Peck are already at the national capital putting forth every possible effort to get the convention. Kansas City is looked upon here as Milwaukee's only opponent.

"General Knox's Twelfth brigade, however, quickly attacked the enemy's main body and severe fighting went on all day over a line which was very extended. The enemy, making a desperate attempt, finally escaped, owing to the serpentine bend in the river. The mounted infantry suffered from the trying flanking movement. Our force has now been reinforced."

JACOBSDAL, Orange Free State, Feb. 19.—Further details of the Boer retreat show that the enemy has been fighting a good rear guard action and occupying successive kopjes in order to allow the moving of the convoy, which, however, has been going at a very slow pace, the animals apparently being dead beat.

The latest reports show that the Boers in the neighborhood of Klipkraa's drift are undoubtedly disheartened.

General French's magnificent march is still the subject of admiration, especially in view of the storms and thunderstorms that all experienced.

The work of sheltering the Boers proceeds vigorously. Owing to the style of the action, the Boers are bound to show in the open whenever they are obliged to leave the kopjes.

BULLER TRYING THE RESCUE AGAIN

Another Movement on to Save Lady Smith - Trying to Take Hlangwane Hill.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—A dispatch from Chieveley said:

CHIEVELEY, Feb. 18.—General Buller's casualties during three days' operations were about 80. The British forces have now partly ascended Monte Christo hill.

CHIEVELEY, Wednesday, Feb. 14.—(Delayed by censor.)—The movement northeastward began this (Wednesday) morning. Lord Dundonald, with cavalry, infantry and artillery, occupied Huzzar hill, five miles north of Chieveley. The infantry entrenched the hill.

The Boers were heavily entrenched on Hlangwane and Monte Christo hills.

Samuel R. Dixon, of St. George street, who donated some land to the city several months ago, on which was to be constructed a road to the Thompson park, is ready to put a force of men at work grading the land. This cannot be done, as no grade lines have been established by Engineer George. Mr. Dixon, in speaking of the matter said: "I have been waiting a long time on this work, and why the engineer has not established a grade is more than I can understand. If I am right, council ordered the grade established when the park question was settled. I do not intend to withdraw my offer to the city to construct a boulevard, but it is strange that the grade has not been set before this."

HIS OX WAS CORED

While Only Badly Scared, He Was All Shaken Up and Terrified.

The writer was engaged in conversation with one of our most prominent and popular citizens, when the latter advocated the saloon on account of business interests, stating that history had demonstrated that towns and cities forbidding saloons within their limits, did not prosper and thrive like those where saloons were permitted. The writer tackled this lying chestnut of the saloon devil and proved it to be an absolute falsehood, and a base slander against the commercial traveler of the nation, men who are demonstrating, in these later years, that intoxicants are a curse from every standpoint, a sentiment earnestly backed up and sustained by their employers.

A few days after this conversation with our East Liverpool merchant the rumor was prevalent that a saloon was to be established near the merchant's home. And oh! how that merchant was wrought up and worried. He is a hustler from away back and a man of influence, and he worked with a will against the saloonist and his project, asserting that the establishment of a gin mill so near to his home residence would ruin its commercial value and compel him to remove from that portion of the city. He won his point and is now content. He was satisfied that the accused saloon should ruin and annoy some one else, but not himself. It makes all the difference whose ox is gored.

N., who was with Admiral Dewey at the battle of Manila. A grand military and civic parade will be one of the features, followed by a public reception to Admiral Dewey. Excursion tickets to Wheeling for this event will be sold Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 21 and 22, from Pittsburgh, Dennison, New Cumberland and intermediate ticket stations on the Pennsylvania lines, and to Bridgeport (opposite Wheeling) from Rochester and intermediate ticket stations. Return limit will include Friday, Feb. 23.

Influenza Caused by Ozone.

On one occasion the writer walked to the edge of Lake Michigan when a strong wind was blowing right from the lake. The bodily condition was as near perfect as could be, and yet in less than five minutes there was every evidence of having caught cold. The severe influenza continued until, on walking away, in less than 500 feet it disappeared as if by magic.

It is very certain that the temperature had nothing to do with this nor the wind, but the influenza was directly due to the abundant ozone in the air. By inquiry it was learned that hundreds of residents who had lived upon the immediate edge of the lake had been obliged to move back three or four miles in order to relieve themselves from such experiences.

Physicians readily admit that it is not always possible to say when one "catches" cold. It certainly cannot always be because of undue exposure or change in temperature, but probably also to changes in the electric condition of the air. Facts of this kind should lead to the extreme caution in studying any supposed relation between the weather and health.--Popular Science.

To Thompson Park--He Is Ready to Commence Grading--News of the Suburb.

Samuel R. Dixon, of St. George street, who donated some land to the city several months ago, on which was to be constructed a road to the Thompson park, is ready to put a force of men at work grading the land. This cannot be done, as no grade lines have been established by Engineer George. Mr. Dixon, in speaking of the matter said: "I have been waiting a long time on this work, and why the engineer has not established a grade is more than I can understand. If I am right, council ordered the grade established when the park question was settled. I do not intend to withdraw my offer to the city to construct a boulevard, but it is strange that the grade has not been set before this."

No Expense Will be Spared to Make the Building One of the Finest in the City and the Bank Proper Will be the Finest in This Section of the State.

The new Potters' National bank building to be erected at the corner of Fifth and Washington streets, when completed, will be one of the handsomest buildings in the city, and will add greatly to the appearance of the business portion of the city.

The lot purchased by the bank fronts 80 feet on Washington street and 70 feet on Fifth street. It is the intention to cover the entire space with a magnificent building of brick and stone, three stories high. The entire first floor will be used for the bank; the second story will be cut up into first-class office rooms and the third story will be used for a lodge room.

Architects are now working on plans and they will be submitted March 20, and it is the intention, if possible, to have the building ready for occupancy by September 1.

It is expected the first story of the building will be built entirely of stone, and the main entrance will be located at the corner. The bank proper will be a marvel of beauty when completed. The fixtures will be the best that can be purchased, and no expense will be spared to make it an ideal bank building the finest in this section of the state. A burglar proof vault and safety deposit boxes will be put in. The banking room will be large and well lighted and the entire building will be lighted by electricity and will be a modern up-to date building in every respect, and one that the city will be proud of.

ARGUED AT COLUMBUS.

Congressman Tayler, Counsel in Martin-Kepner Treasurer Suit.

A Columbus dispatch says: Congressman R. W. Tayler is here as attorney in the case of Jesse Kepner vs. John R. Martin, of Columbiana county, which is being argued to the supreme court. Martin was elected to succeed Kepner as treasurer of the county. When he assumed the office Kepner turned over $31,832.72, and Martin accepted it, supposing it was all there was in his possession. Subsequently he claimed that Kepner had held back public funds aggregating $7,601.23, and he sued for the amount and interest. He got a verdict for a total amount of $10,924.76.

While in Columbus Mr. Tayler inquired into the political situation in the Eighteenth district, especially regarding the origin and scope of the alleged opposition that had developed to his candidacy for renomination. He was assured by the district politicians at Columbus that he had no cause for anxiety on that score.

MACRUM IS READY.

Gone to Washington--Said He Was Willing to Prove the Statement He Made.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 19.—Charles E. Macrum, late United States consul at Pretoria, was in the city a short time last evening enroute from his home in East Liverpool, O., to Washington. He said he had not been called to the capital by the state department and was going there on no special errand. He simply wanted to be in Washington in case anything happened in which he might be interested.

Macrum does not seem a bit worried about the outcome of the statement. And he said so, too, but added that he hoped that nothing of a serious character in the way of international complications with Great Britain would result. In answer to questions the consul said:

"I have not one word to take back in the statement published over my signature a few days ago. I fully appreciated the seriousness of such a statement and that is why I refused to be interviewed or discuss the matter offhand. I took plenty of time to write it and read it over more than once to make sure that I made no blunders. Now I am ready and willing to prove every word it contained."

KILLS Without Blowing.

What is lyddite? The high explosive thus called from the name of the small Kentish town and gunnery center where the experiments with it were made is nothing less than picric acid brought into a dense state by fusion. Picric acid is a bright yellow substance freely used in peaceful industries for dyeing purposes. It is obtained by the action of nitric acid on phenol or carbolic acid. It burns very violently, and, owing to the tremendous blast produced by the explosion the destructive effect of a bursting shell filled with it is some 11 times greater than that of a shell filled with powder.

All lyddite shells are equipped with percussion nose fuses only; hence their explosion takes place on impact in the following fashion: The percussion fuse ignites a picric powder exploder, which in turn ignites the bursting charge of lyddite, the detonation of the fuse and of the two explosives inside the shell being instantaneous. The picric powder exploder, we should add, is inserted in a recess left in the lyddite for that purpose. Lyddite shell is to some extent less barbarous than shrapnel exploded by powder, for, though widespread, its death dealing effects are due more to air concussion than to the wounding effects of the flying fragments. In other words, in the case of a lyddite shell bursting in a group of men, the greater number will be killed not by pieces of the shell, but by the blow of the suddenly compressed air.

ARGUED AT COLUMBUS.

Congressman Tayler, Counsel in Martin-Kepner Treasurer Suit.

A Columbus dispatch says: Congressman R. W. Tayler is here as attorney in the case of Jesse Kepner vs. John R. Martin, of Columbiana county, which is being argued to the supreme court. Martin was elected to succeed Kepner as treasurer of the county. When he assumed the office Kepner turned over $31,332.72, and Martin accepted it, supposing it was all there was in his possession. Subsequently he claimed that Kepner had held back public funds aggregating $7,601.23, and he sued for the amount and interest. He got a verdict for a total amount of $10,924.76.

While in Columbus Mr. Tayler inquired into the political situation in the Eighteenth district, especially regarding the origin and scope of the alleged opposition that had developed to his candidacy for renomination. He was assured by the district politicians at Columbus that he had no cause for anxiety on that score.

The mayor told her to go her way and sin no more. The city jail is empty.

MACRUM IS READY.

Gone to Washington--Said He Was Willing to Prove the Statement He Made.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 19.—Charles E. Macrum, late United States consul at Pretoria, was in the city a short time last evening enroute from his home in East Liverpool, O., to Washington. He said he had not been called to the capital by the state department and was going there on no special errand. He simply wanted to be in Washington in case anything happened in which he might be interested.

Macrum does not seem a bit worried about the outcome of the statement. And he said so, too, but added that he hoped that nothing of a serious character in the way of international complications with Great Britain would result. In answer to questions the ex-consul said:

"I have not one word to take back in the statement published over my signature a few days ago. I fully appreciated the seriousness of such a statement and that is why I refused to be interviewed or discuss the matter offhand. I took plenty of time to write it and read it over more than once to make sure that I made no blunders. Now I am ready and willing to prove every word it contained."

SCARCELY five days now until the polls open for the primaries. What are you going to do about it?

MAKE the ticket a good one from top to bottom. Don't let it be top heavy, lop-sided or figure-headed.

THERE are plenty of good men in the Republican party. Pick out enough to fill out a first class ticket Saturday.

IF THE ticket nominated isn't a good one, it will be the fault of those who neglected to work and vote for good men

A MAN shouldn't be elected to office simply because he wants to get there. The only sufficient reason for his election is that the people want him to get there.

YOU may not be running for office yourself, but the men nominated Saturday will have a good deal to say about how much money will come out of your pocket to run the city.

SMOOTH SAILING.

The positive announcement from Judge P. M. Smith that he will not be a candidate for congress this year will no doubt ensure Hon. R. W. Taylor an unopposed renomination from Columbian county's delegation.

DON'T BE A COWARD?

Many men and womanly women despise a coward? If your grocer, your dry goods merchant, your hardware merchant, your shoe merchant, your furniture dealer, or any other man, or body of men, threaten to do you harm, bodily or otherwise, in case you do not vote to suit them, or vote as they dictate, laugh them to scorn. Don't be a coward? If the liquor dealer, wholesale or retail, dares to interfere with your ballot, laugh him to scorn and give him open defiance, and the God of truth will see that you have the victory. Don't be a coward. "Right is might and shall prevail."

GOD AND HUMANITY.

God loved humanity in the days when Christ, in human form, dwelt upon this earth. God loves humanity with the same all powerful and divine love today. He is the friend of the poor and the needy. He gives unto them good gifts, in time and in eternity. He stands ready to help YOU today. He is the lover of everything pure and right and true. He hates evil and evil communications. He hates the infamous liquor traffic and that abomination of abominations, the saloon, hell's choicest weapon for the gathering in of human souls. Remember this on Saturday next, and cast your ballot for the cleanest man and best man on the ticket.

WAREHOUSE GIRLS

At the Brunt Pottery Walked Out—Mr. Louthan Says There Is No Strike.

The biscuit warehouse girls at Brunt's pottery went out on a strike this morning. The trouble only concerns five girls and last Saturday night they claim they were given their two weeks' notice, but when they arrived at the pottery this morning they found a new girl installed in the place of one of their number who had been employed as a sponger. They didn't like this and protested and as a result the strike occurred. A meeting of the union will be held this afternoon to discuss the matter.

Mr. Louthan, of the pottery company, stated this afternoon that there was no strike at the plant but that a girl or two might have quit.

TWO ACCIDENTS.

Lester McBane Had His Foot and Finger Mashed In the Same Day.

Lester McBane, assistant pressman at the NEWS REVIEW office, had a brace of accidents today that will lay him up for a short time. While working around the newspaper press this morning he had his foot mashed, and this afternoon when he started the gas engine one of his fingers was caught and severely mashed. This was too much for Lester and he fainted, but soon recovered and was able to walk to his home.

GONE EAST.

Hon. Charles E. Macrum Left Yesterday For an Extended Trip.

Before he left he stated that he did not intend to go straight to Washington, but would spend several days in the east on private business before he went to the capital. He stated that he had not been called to Washington and was making the trip purely from personal reasons.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

DANGER OF BEING TOO OBLIGING.

The other evening, while attending a lecture, Howard Tompkins observed, sitting three seats in front, a man whom he recognized as an intimate acquaintance. Tompkins requested the person who occupied the seat next to him to lean forward and poke the other individual with his stick. The polite stranger at once obligingly did so.

When the disturbed person turned his head a little to find out the cause of the poke, Tompkins discovered his mistake—that he was not the person he had taken him for.

Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer and affecting complete unconsciousness of the whole affair, Tompkins left the obliging man with the stick to settle with the other for disturbance. There was, as may be readily imagined, a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during the whole of which Tompkins evidenced the profoundest possible interest in the lecture.

At last the man with the stick asked in aggrieved and indignant tones:

"Didn't you tell me, sir, to poke that man with my stick?"

"I certainly did," replied the unabashed Tompkins.

"I wanted to see if you would poke him or not," was the audacious answer.—Pearson's Weekly.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

A school inspector well known for his weight was trying to extract the word "flesh" from a class. His efforts had failed, but, taking hold of his fat cheek between his thumb and forefinger, he pulled it out and asked:

"What's this?"

The unhesitating answer came promptly, "Pork, sir."

The same inspector was once giving an object lesson on an umbrella. To illustrate his subject he took his own silk umbrella, which happened to have a small hole in it.

"What is this, boys?"

"An umbrella, sir."

"And what is this?"

"The stick, sir."

"And these?"

"The ribs, sir."

"With what is it covered?"

"Silence."

"Surely you know. What kind of an umbrella would you call it?"

"An old 'un, sir."—Good Words.

The trouble only concerns five girls and last Saturday night they claim they were given their two weeks' notice, but when they arrived at the pottery this morning they found a new girl installed in the place of one of their number who had been employed as a sponger. They didn't like this and protested and as a result the strike occurred. A meeting of the union will be held this afternoon to discuss the matter.

Mr. Louthan, of the pottery company, stated this afternoon that there was no strike at the plant but that a girl or two might have quit.

Danger of Being Too Obliging.

The other evening, while attending a lecture, Howard Tomkins observed, sitting three seats in front, a man whom he recognized as an intimate acquaintance. Tomkins requested the person who occupied the seat next to him to lean forward and poke the other individual with his stick. The polite stranger at once obligingly did so.

When the disturbed person turned his head a little to find out the cause of the poke, Tomkins discovered his mistake—that he was not the person he had taken him for.

Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer and affecting complete unconsciousness of the whole affair, Tomkins left the obliging man with the stick to settle with the other for disturbance. There was, as may be readily imagined, a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during the whole of which Tomkins evidenced the profoundest possible interest in the lecture.

At last the man with the stick asked in aggrieved and indignant tones:

"Didn't you tell me, sir, to poke that man with my stick?"

"I certainly did," replied the unabashed Tomkins.

"I wanted to see if you would poke him or not," was the audacious answer.—Pearson's Weekly.

Questions and Answers.

A school inspector well known for his weight was trying to extract the word "flesh" from a class. His efforts had failed, but, taking hold of his fat cheek between his thumb and forefinger, he pulled it out and asked:

"What's this?"

The unhesitating answer came promptly. "Pork, sir."

The same inspector was once giving an object lesson on an umbrella. To illustrate his subject he took his own silk umbrella, which happened to have a small hole in it.

"What is this, boys?"

"An umbrella, sir."

"And what is this?"

"The stick, sir."

"And these?"

"The ribs, sir."

"With what is it covered?"

Silence.

"Surely you know. What kind of an umbrella would you call it?"

"An old 'un, sir."—Good Words.

LISBON, Feb. 19.—[Special]—Judge P. M. Smith states that he has positively decided not to be a candidate for congress this year. ## PORTO RICAN BILL COMES UP.

Likely to Affect Our Policy as to Other Possessions—Form of Government of Hawaii Will Be Considered in the Senate—May Discuss Other Islands.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—The attention of the senate this week will be given largely to the relations of the United States to its insular possessions. The bill providing a form of government for the Hawaiian islands has right of way, and if it should be so fortunate as to be finally acted upon before the close of the week, the Porto Rican bill, under the agreement made in the Republican caucus last week, will be immediately taken up. The probabilities are that the Hawaiian bill will be debated at considerable length and that many amendments will be offered to it. On this account, and because it may be made the basis of more or less general talk on the question of the policy to be pursued toward the new possessions, considerable time probably will be necessary to the final disposal of the bill.

All admit the urgency of legislation giving the Hawaiians a government, but there are some points on which there are radical differences of opinion, and these will have to be fought out. The most important of these is the question as to whether the commercial intercourse between the United States and the islands shall be under a tariff or under the free trade system allowed between the states of the Union. The bill provides for free trade, but several of the senators, under the leadership of Senator Platt, of Connecticut, are making an effort to secure radical amendment in this respect.

Senator Cullom, in charge of the bill, will resist, and he will be supported by some Republicans and nearly all of the Democratic members. Practically the same fight will be made on the Porto Rican bill.

The Porto Rican tariff bill and debate upon it are to occur in the house this week. The vital question at issue in the bill is whether that clause of the constitution providing for equality of impost and excise taxes throughout the United States territory extends over the island of Porto Rico and in this is involved, perhaps, the determination of the future status and government of our new possessions. The Republicans, in framing the bill have proceeded upon the theory that the constitution and its immunities do not extend over Porto Rico. The Democrats are solidly arrayed upon the other side and in committee they were joined by one Republican—Mr. McCall of Massachusetts.

Among the other Republicans to take the same view is Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, who succeeded the late Mr. Dingley. He won his spurs in the debate upon the Roberts case and is already considered one of the most powerful debaters in the house. The support of these two prominent Republicans has raised some hopes in the opposition that they may be able to defeat the bill, although this hardly seemed probable at this writing. Both sides are preparing for a royal struggle. Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority, will open in support of the bill. He will be followed by Mr. Richardson, the minority leader, Mr. Bailey, of Texas, will close for the minority. The debate will continue throughout the week and the vote will be taken on the following Monday.

LAST HONORS TO CLINE.

Soldier Lad of the Tenth Buried at Washington, Pa.—Killed in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Feb. 19.—Jacob O. Cline, the first soldier of Company H, Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, to fall on the field of battle in the far away islands of the Philippines, was buried here with full military honors.

The funeral services were held in the Christian church, of which Cline was a member. They were in charge of Chaplain Henry W. Temple, of the late Seventeenth regiment, N. G. P., and Rev. W. H. Hanna, pastor of the church. The services were opened with an anthem, "Beyond the Smiling and the Weeping," after which invocation was offered by Rev. Mr. Temple and the Scripture read by Rev. Mr. Hanna. The eulogies over the dead warrior were by Chaplain Temple and Rev. Mr. Hanna.

The services were concluded with an anthem, the "Lord's Prayer," and benediction by Chaplain Temple.

The coffin was borne from the church to the funeral car by six comrades of his company: Sergeant James P. Braden, Corporal Charles H. Rogers, and Privates George C. Rarr, William V.

McCarthy, John E. Murray and Albert D. Wilson, intimate friends of the dead soldier; also by honorary pallbearers from the lodge of Odd Fellows.

On arriving at the cemetery the soldiers of the company formed about the grave, and when the body was lowered short services were conducted by the Odd Fellows. A volley was fired and taps were sounded by Bugler Smith, of Company E, Mount Pleasant.

THE L. & N. IN POLITICS.

Belmont Makes Public Correspondence With Watterson, Previous to the Election.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 19.—Milton H. Smith, president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, has given out correspondence, mention of which was made in the editorial of Henry Watterson, regarding the Kentucky elections.

It is a letter written to Smith by August Belmont, one of the chief men of the company.

Watterson wrote him a letter warning him that the management of the road was interfering in politics, in trying to beat Goebel, and that it was bound to cause legislative action against the road, which would injure it, as Goebel was sure to be elected, as the Goebel law made the election such that it would not be "left to chance." He also warned Belmont of the mismanagement of Louisville Post and Louisville Dispatch, which, he said, were controlled by the railroad, which were foolishly abusing The Courier-Journal and in reality injuring the road. He also complained of one Whallen.

Belmont laid the matter before the directors of the road. They passed resolutions, copies of which were sent to Watterson, saying no official of the road was allowed to run for office, neither had the road any connection with the papers complained of or with Whallen.

The road as a corporation had as much right as an individual to fight in politics men like Goebel or other legislator, who had tried and were threatening to injure the road, which, while deriving so much benefit from the state, had also in turn been a benefit to the state and the people.

SALISBURY'S HIGH IDEAL.

Believed to Be Sacrificing Politics, to What He Believes to Be Statesmanship.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—There is a growing impression that Lord Salisbury is sacrificing politics to what he rightly or wrongly believes to be the statesmanship of the last quarter of a century. His strength, patriotism and diplomacy have often been severely tested and not found wanting, hence the idea that his continued refusal to take the nation into his confidence at this crisis is prompted by motives of the highest importance.

The conduct of the foreign office, where there is not the slightest inclination to underestimate the difficulties or overestimate the national capabilities, certainly bears out this solution of the enigma that puzzles the Conservatives as much as it provides capital for the Liberals.

A reasonable supposition was suggested by a well-known peer, who said: "It is more than likely that Lord Salisbury, though seeing no immediate likelihood of foreign complications, wishes to prepare for the contingency and be able to meet it with a free hand, unfettered by any recent utterance confessing weakness or exposing strength."

In support of this, it is interesting to observe that at the moment Lord Rosebery was demanding naval mobilization, the admiralty was engaged in instituting the preliminaries for that very move, by ascertaining at all the naval ports the number of ships that could be immediately commissioned and issuing orders for three battleships and three cruisers, all of the reserve, to coal at once, in order to be ready for commissioning in case they were required.

NEW BASEBALL ASSOCIATION.

Decision to Keep It Up, But Hold Off for a Year.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 19.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the new association baseball club the future of the club was discussed and it was unanimously agreed that the organization should be kept up.

The action of Messrs. Peterson and McGraw in refusing to go on with the association under the present auspices was ratified, but it was thought by the end of the year matters would be in a different position and the association could be formed and carried out to a successful conclusion, in which case Baltimore would be ready to go in.

One of Lamb's Friends.

A pretentious poet got his verses submitted to Charles Lamb by a friend just before the poet was to meet Lamb at dinner. Lamb found the verses to be feeble echoes of other poets, and when the author arrived he was seen to be as empty as his verses. This awakened Lamb's spirit of mischief and wagery. At dinner he said in the course of conversation:

"That reminds me of some verses I wrote when I was young," and then he quoted a line or two which he recollects from the poet's book, to the latter's amazement and indignation. Lamb was diverted immensely, but kept perfectly serious and quoted more lines in connection with another remark, begging the company to remember how young he was when he composed them. The author again looked daggers at him.

Lamb capped all by introducing the first lines of "Paradise Lost" ("Of man's first disobedience," etc.) as also written by himself, which brought the poet to his feet, bursting with rage. He said he had sat by and allowed his own "little verses" to be appropriated without protest, but when he saw Milton also being pilfered from he could sit silent no longer. ## ENGINEERS' GRIEVANCE.

Pennsy Employees Want More Money For Running Big Engines—Conference at Altoona.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 19.—Two hundred delegates, representing the engineers employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad company on its entire system, met here and held a secret conference to adjust grievances over wages. Two sessions were held. Both were attended by Grand Chief P. M. Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

The grievances consist principally over the big engines recently introduced on the Pennsylvania road. Engineers claim they require more work and that the men who run them should have more pay.

The delegates were close-mouthed about the convention and would give nothing out for publication. The action of the convention will be submitted to local lodges for ratification.

Grand Chief Arthur will leave for the west today.

Sensational Story About a Frenchman Offering Transvaal Information to Great Britain.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—The sensational newspapers of Paris publish a story with regard to a sub-chief of one of the bureaus of the ministry of marine named Philipp, who is said to have been discovered in an offer to furnish Great Britain information relating to the freighting of vessels for the Transvaal in French ports. It is alleged that in the letter containing his proposal he asked 25,000 francs in return for the information. It is also alleged that the letter was seized on the strength of information given through Dr. Leyds, whereupon M. Philipp absconded.

The Nationalist journals insinuate that he received timely warning from the French government and was thus enabled to escape to England.

Dr. Leyds, however, denies the part attributed to him in the affair and the British embassy has issued a formal repudiation of any relations, direct or indirect, with Philipp.

According to the Journal des Debats, Philipp has gone to the United States, where he formerly lived and where, it is said, he became a bankrupt as the result of his unfortunate management of his business as a picture dealer.

THE SCHOOL APPROPRIATION.

State Treasurer Beacon Completed It's Distribution In Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 19.—State Treasurer Beacon completed the distribution of school appropriation for the current fiscal year ending May 31 next. This is the first time the school districts have been paid before March 1 since the appropriation was increased to $5,500,000. The statistical officers estimate the state revenues for 1900 at $12,121,448.50, or about $600,000 less than the receipts for 1899. Mr. Beacon says if business conditions continue as good for five years as they have for the present 18 months the state will be able, under the present revenue law, to meet its obligations, but that even the present conditions will not justify any increase of appropriations.

He believes it would be a mistake to change the present system of state taxation in Pennsylvania. The large increase in the state revenues the past year over the previous 12 months have enabled the state treasurer to settle promptly all the claims against the commonwealth.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. ## One of Lamb's Pranks.

A pretentious poet got his verses submitted to Charles Lamb by a friend just before the poet was to meet Lamb at dinner. Lamb found the verses to be feeble echoes of other poets, and when the author arrived he was seen to be as empty as his verses. This awakened Lamb's spirit of mischievous waggery. At dinner he said in the course of conversation:

"That reminds me of some verses I wrote when I was young," and then he quoted a line or two which he recollects from the poet's book, to the latter's amazement and indignation. Lamb was diverted immensely, but kept perfectly serious and quoted more lines in connection with another remark, begging the company to remember how young he was when he composed them. The author again looked daggers at him.

Lamb capped all by introducing the first lines of "Paradise Lost" ("Of man's first disobedience," etc.) as also written by himself, which brought the poet to his feet, bursting with rage. He said he had sat by and allowed his own "little verses" to be appropriated without protest, but when he saw Milton also being pilfered from he could sit silent no longer. ### The Drunken Lieutenant.

The Terrible took a prominent part in the bombardment of Odessa. Our second lieutenant, Mr. S., was not a temperate man.

Before the bombardment began he sought for courage in a square faced bottle, and when the drum beat to quarters he was in his cabin in a drunken sleep, from which he could not be awakened.

As I was midshipman of his quarters, I had to fight his guns. In the evening, when he came to himself, he was put under arrest, and we midshipmen speculated whether he would be shot or hung at the yardarm.

Either would have been a thrilling episode, but I am not sure that his fate was not even more tragic.

As soon as the anchor was dropped in the Golden Horn, off Stamboul, the captain ordered, "Man the second gig. We all wondered. Then he said, "Tell Mr. S. I want him."

Poor S. came up at once, greatly astonished at the summons.

"The second gig is manned, Mr. S.," said the skipper sternly and turned away.

S. took the hint, stepped at once into the boat and was landed at the nearest shore. From that day no soul ever heard what became of him. Whether he committed suicide, whether he got other employment (not a difficult matter in those busy times), whether, under another name, he won for himself the respect of his fellow men has never been known. —Contemporary Review.

When Horses Go to Sleep.

It is not generally known that at least four out of every ten horses do not lie down to sleep. The horse that sleeps in a standing position rests one leg at a time, depending on the other three to sustain the weight of his body.

The habit is a very dangerous one. Only a short time since a fine horse in the stables of a big manufacturing concern went to sleep while standing in his stall and fell heavily to the floor, breaking one of his legs. A great many horses are permanently injured as a result of accidents of this nature, and there is no way of curing them of the habit.
